SYNOPSIS

THE FOURTH PORTRAIT

(Di si zhang hua/2010/105 mins.)
Dir: Mong-Hong Chung

Ten year-old Xiang faces a lonely future after his father dies. Just when he thinks he's going to spend his life in the orphanage, his estranged mother shows up. And his life changes forever... A loveless mother, a hateful stepfather, a chilly home. Where's

Xiang heading to? He finds comfort in drawing and his work reveals his longing for care and affection. Life is full of hope again when he meets the old school janitor who doesn't show his kindness easily and a portly man who has crazy ideas and is haunted with nightmares of his brother. A scary truth is about to be unmasked. Will Xiang be able to depict his own image in the fourth portrait?

WHEN A WOLF FALLS IN LOVE WITH A SHEEP

(Nanfang xiao yang muchang/2012/86 mins.)

Dir: Chi-jan Hou

Tung awakens one morning to find that his girlfriend has abandoned him, leaving only a single note stuck onto his forehead. Tung accepts a job at a copy shop, printing examination materials for the nearby cram school. His existence seems humdrum, until he finds a precious drawing of a sheep on one of the returned documents. This is the work of student and illustrator yang, a deeply philosophical, tomboyish eccentric biding her time until she can find a comfortable career. Despite still harboring feelings for his ex-girlfriend, Tung impulsively draws a wolf onto the exam and returns it to her. Coming together in their time of need, the two manage to find common ground despite their ideological differences and the weight of their combined pasts.

7 DAYS IN HEAVEN

(Fu hou qi ri/2010/93 mins)
Directors: Essay Liu, Yu-Lin Wang

A woman returns to her farming village in central Taiwan within seven days of her father's death. Upon her return, she again faces the villagers' rustic simplicity and superstition. After the funeral, the woman packs and seals the sorrow of her loss and returns to her busy metropolis. While sitting in the airport smoking room in Hong Kong, however, she breaks down when thoughts of longing for her father suddenly overwhelm her. Through the impenetrable smoke, her father seems to appear sitting next to her.
